A murder investigation is underway after a woman died in a car crash near Waterford after being shot in the head. The woman's body was discovered early this morning by police at a scene off the Waterford bypass. The car was involved in a road traffic collision on the bypass, near the Donnellys road-end. The woman was taken to Waterford Regional Hospital, where she later died. A 36-year-old Donnegal man has been arrested on suspicion of murder and is being questioned at Ennis barracks. It is understood the woman was in the car with two other people. The man has a firearm licence, according to gardai. It is understood the car was travelling from Abbeyside to Waterford when the shooting occurred. The scene is in the donnellys area It is understood the woman was shot in the head at least once. There was a third person in the car, who suffered minor injuries. Gardai said a local man who was driving on the Waterford bypass at the time was told by a passing car to switch his radio to the emergency frequency. That's when he spotted three people in the car. One of them, a man, was slumped in the back seat. The car then pulled off the road and stopped. That's when the man approached the car. Paramedics arrived at the scene shortly after. An ambulance then left the scene shortly after with the dead woman. Gardai said an investigation is under way. A Garda spokesman said he had no further details available at this time.
